TOP TIP:

Go UP at the O2!

Discover a different side of London climbing over the roof of the world's most popular entertainment venue.

HIGHLIGHTSROYAL HISTORY

Greenwich has a noble royal history stretching back centuries. Henry VIII and Elizabeth I were born here, in the Tudor palace of Placentia, which stood on the banks of the river Thames where the Old Royal Naval College is today. It was here that Henry VIII held jousting tournaments for his knights and where Ann Boleyn began her fateful journey to the Tower of London and her tragic death!

MERIDIAN LINE

The Meridian Line in Greenwich splits the Eastern and Western hemisphere in two (just like the equator does for the Northern and Southern hemisphere), so if you stand with one foot on either side of the line, you're in two parts of the world at the same time!

GREENWICH

20 MINS

Put on your favourite walking shoes and enjoy the best of Greenwich with this shared tour.

Take the helm at the ship's wheel and walk beneath the original at the Cutty Sark. This old ship is the only surviving 'tea clipper' (they used it to import tea from China) and it used to be the fastest ship of its era (1869)

To continue, you will visit the Royal Observatory, home of Greenwich Mean Time (GMT), the Prime Meridian of the world and London's Planetarium.

This tour also includes entrance at the National Maritime Museum with its epic stories of exploration and endeavour that have shaped our world today and the Old Royal Naval College with its magnificent Painted Hall.

TOP TIP:

For beer lovers try a pint at the at The Foundry Brew Pub where you can actually watch the beers being brewed while you wait

HIGHLIGHTSCANTERBURY

Less than an hour from London, with its cobbled streets, world-famous Cathedral and hidden gems, Canterbury was once one of medieval Europe's great places of pilgrimage; and is now fondly referred to as the 'Jewel in Kent's Crown'

CANTERBURY TALES

Hear a Knight, a Miller, a Pardoner and the Wife of Bath tell the tales to compete for a meal at the Tabard Inn as they travel the road from London to Canterbury to pay homage to St Thomas Beckett

CANTERBURY

 55 MINS

In the morning take the train and travel forward the Historic City of Canterbury. This ancient city will amaze you with its beautiful Cathedral which is the Mother Church of the worldwide Anglican Communion.

Pilgrims and visitors have made their way to Canterbury Cathedral since the Middle Ages and today remains one of the most visited places in the country.

It took a grisly place in history when Archbishop Thomas Becket was murdered inside the Cathedral in 1170 - hence its historic attraction to pilgrims.

See more of this picturesque old city with wonderful views by taking a boat trip along the River Stuar; or walk or cycle along the Great Stour Way.
